

What is the Youth Advisory Council (YAC)

The Youth Advisory Council (YAC) is a council for equitable change and authentic voice in education. YAC will advise policymakers and interested stakeholders on educational issues affecting young people. While working directly with State Superintendent of Public Instruction Tony Thurmond, members will be representative of a diverse spectrum of young voices of the State of California.

We are looking for...

1. 15-18 year old students are eligible to apply for The YAC
2. Participation in 85% of all YAC meetings, activities, and projects throughout the year. This will include bi-monthly online meetings and in-person convening for the 2021-2022 school year.

Applications Open: September 24th-October 15th

What we do

- > We will work with young people to create new ways to assess topics like Social Emotional Learning, grading metrics, and whole-child development needs in the California k-12 education system
- > We will be involved in policy development to create equitable change by working with local and state government officials
- > We will be inclusive of all of California's youth to get a diverse spectrum of voices
